the threat.

There is a faceless danger hiding beneath a perceived blanket of security. The modern terrorists' weapon of choice is the volatile and constantly changing Improvised Explosive Device (IED), and the danger lies in the enemy's possible target: Anyone. Knowledge is merely the first step in combating this adversary. RISC provides the knowledge and experience, offering a cover of safety that you can trust.

[SEARCH] The Security Awareness and Response to Concealed Hazards presentation educates participants on the basics of safety by utilizing realistic training aids and practical application of skills.

[IED Electronics] Our Improvised Explosive Device Electronics course effectively teaches bomb squad technicians the skills required to analyze and safely disarm even the most complex IED by synthesizing classroom and hands-on execution.

[THREAT] Using an integrated program exclusive to RISC Management, the Tactical Hazards Response and Explosives Awareness program provides critical response techniques in two of the most hostile situations: The chemical and active shooter/hostage.
